

Lead Capture Planner

You don't need to build a crowd from scratch. You need to borrow reach from platforms that already have the audience you want, and build a system that brings the right people into your world. This planner walks you through the four steps.

1 Identify Your Platform

Name the platform, event, or partner that already has the attention of the people you want to serve. Think bigger than your own reach: local events, social platforms, booking apps, community groups, complementary businesses.

Platform / event / partner: _____

Their estimated audience size: _____

Why this audience overlaps with mine: _____

2 Design Your Capture Mechanism

Build the thing that gives people a reason to hand you their contact info. Not a sales pitch. A capture mechanism. Something small and immediate in exchange for a name, email, and phone number.

My capture mechanism: _____

Ideas: spin wheel / giveaway, free guide or checklist, quiz, discount code, free consultation, booking link with info capture, QR code to landing page

What do they get in return: _____

What info am I collecting (name, email, phone, other): _____

3 Execute with Intention

Every element of your setup should have a job. What draws attention from a distance, what pulls people in, what captures info, and what builds credibility while they engage.

ELEMENT

ITS JOB

Lead goal for this campaign: _____

Date / timeline: _____

4 Map Your Nurture Sequence

Leads are permission to start a conversation, not a commitment. Plan how you will follow up and build the relationship from first contact to first sale.

Within 48 hours: _____

Day 3–5: _____

Day 7: _____

Day 14: _____

Day 30: _____

You don't grow by trying to build a crowd. You grow by showing up where the crowd already is and building a system that brings the right people home with you.

Every service industry has platforms with more reach than any single business. The table below shows how the four-step framework applies across different industries. Find your business type or adapt the closest example to your situation.

INDUSTRY	PLATFORM TO BORROW	CAPTURE MECHANISM	WHAT THEY GET	YOUR OWNED LIST
Gym / Fitness	Google Search	Landing page with contact form	Free week of training or free Challenge	Email + phone for nurture sequence
Gym / Fitness	ClassPass, Groupon	PAR-Q health form at check-in	7-day pass + strategy session	Full contact info + health profile
Home Services (cleaning, HVAC, plumbing, etc.)	Thumbtack, Angi, Yelp	Collect info at time of initial service	Follow-up summary of work completed + VIP 50% off next service via website	Email + phone for rebooking and referral campaigns
Hair Stylists, Barbers, Estheticians	Booksy, StyleSeat, Vagaro	QR code scanned on arrival at the chair	Timestamp arrival + discount on next appointment booked within 30 days	Direct contact for rebooking, promos, and referrals
Personal Trainers / Coaches	Instagram, TikTok, YouTube	Free resource in bio link (guide, quiz, challenge signup)	Free training plan, body comp quiz, or 5-day challenge	Email list you control outside the algorithm
Photography / Videography	The Knot, WeddingWire, local bridal expos	Mini session booking form or QR code at vendor table	Free engagement photo session or pricing guide PDF	Email + phone + wedding date for timed follow-up
Pet Services (grooming, walking, sitting)	Rover, Wag, Nextdoor	First-visit intake form with contact fields	10% off next visit when booked direct through your site	Contact info + pet details for recurring bookings
Home Staging	Realtor referrals, Houzz, Instagram	Portfolio PDF download on website or QR at open house	Free staging consultation or market-specific staging guide	Agent email list for nurture and seasonal campaigns

Your Turn

Find your industry above or adapt the closest example. The platform column is where your next leads are waiting. The capture mechanism is how you bring them into your world. The owned list is where you nurture them into clients. Go back to page 1 and fill in your planner.
